MASONIC INTELLIGENCE.

From the Masonic Sun.]

HAIL TO THE CRAFT.

I.

Hail to the Star of Masonry, whose pure and radiant light,
Resplendent shines o'er land and sea, by day as well as night:—
How great its charm there's none can tell, but those who know its power;
Its mystic magic, working spell, to cheer life's darkest hour.
'Tis a glorious star, and sheds its ray
O'er all the world, from day to day.

II.

Hail to the gem, true Charity! Oh, may it e'er be worn
By every Mason just and free, the Order to adorn:
Hail to the three grand principles on which Freemasonry rests,
Fraternal Love, Relief and Truth, enshrined within each breast.
Pure satisfaction will impart
To the just and upright Mason's heart.

III.

Hail to the Craft, whose secret arts and hidden mysteries hold
A wondrous power o'er all the hearts of Masons, young and old;
And while that power retains its sway with undiminished might
With fervent zeal and freedom pay glad homage to the bright
Pure star that shines and sheds its ray
O'er all the world from day to day.

IV.

Hail to the Craft, to which belongs a great and mighty band
Of brethren fam'd in art, in song, the noblest in the land:
Princes and Dukes its ranks still seek, where'er its ling'ring ways,
It welcomes the just, the free, the meek, but ne'er admits the slave.
All hail to the Craft—it still shall be
The Craft we love—Freemasonry!

Masonic Jurisprudence.

IOWA—Decisions of G. M. Peck, 1866-7.

Query—Are the decisions of the Grand Master imperative as law?

Answer—They are, unless revoked by the Grand Lodge.

Query—Is the W. M. of a Lodge justifiable in saying, in open Lodge that he "proposes to be guided by Mackey and does not care anything about Grand Master's decisions?" Also, that he "does not propose to follow Grand Lodge charges, but to work the old work?" And what is the penalty for refusing to comply with Grand Lodge requirements?

Answer—Every W. M., when installed, voluntarily obligates himself to "pay homage to the Grand Master for the time being, and to his officers when duly installed; and strictly to conform to every edict of the Grand Lodge or general assembly of Masons, that is not subversive of the principles and groundwork of Masonry." The Grand Lodge of Iowa, during the past few years, has affirmed and reaffirmed its adherence to the Preston-Webb Work, as the only work to be recognized and taught in this jurisdiction, and the W. M. who is so regardless of his obligation to obey Grand Lodge requirements as to deny it, and publicly declare his intention to disregard Grand Lodge edicts, during the station he has been elected to fill, and should have his jewel arrested without delay; and if this insubordination exists with the Lodge likewise, their charter should be taken from them.

Query—Has the Tyler any right to be within the Lodge while at labor?

Answer—The Tyler receives fees for performing certain duties, and by accepting the office signifies his willingness to discharge them. How can he "keep off all cowans and eavesdroppers" and at the same time be within the Lodge? At all times when the Lodge is open, he should be at his post "without the door, armed with the proper instrument of his office," and the door closed.

Query—If a complaint is entered with the J. W. against a Brother, must it be signed by the accuser; and if not, has he a right to be present at the trial, and also to propound such questions as he may consider relevant to the case?

Answer—The accuser need not affix his signature to charges to be preferred, and neither he nor any other Brother should be debarred from giving testimony, or propounding any questions that would elicit evidence, and either substantiate or refute charges.

Query—Can any Brother appeal from the decision of the Lodge, if a Brother is tried and he thinks the Lodge does not inflict a penalty commensurate with the offence, or is the party tried the only one who can appeal?

Answer—The right to an appeal is every Brother's privilege. A Mason is really not expelled from a subordinate Lodge until its act is ratified by the Grand Lodge, although the offender is, for the time being, divorced from all the rights and benefits of the Order.

From the Freemason.]

Colored Masons.

In the Flag of Our Union, Boston, we find the following remarks by an able Brother of that city, upon the making of a Mason of a negro, by S. Andrew's Lodge, in that city, we deperated in our December number. The views presented below meet our hearty approval, and are a scathing rebuke to the parties who inflicted this wrong upon the fraternity:

Not long ago St. Andrew's Lodge, of this city, made a Mason of a negro, who, according to Bro. Moore's account, is in the same position as the one who entered the Lodges in Chicago, and which called forth the edict above mentioned from their Grand Lodge; he asserts that this colored candidate was free born, (so was the visitor at Chicago), and says it is a mere matter of taste, and does not violate any of the ancient landmarks. What is the reason of this reversion of judgment in these two parallel cases? I for one say nothing, but could I if I would, against the respectable individual who has been referred to; I have known him a long time, and have always respected him as a moral and upright man and a good citizen. I am sure he has all the qualifications that are required in the individual who is to associate with us? Must he not be one with whom we can readily fraternize, and meet as a companion in friendly intercourse? And how are we to preserve that harmony so essential to our prosperity between the Brethren all over our States, many of whom would not admit this person into their Lodges should he apply as a visitor, and very likely proscribe those who hailed from a Lodge who initiated him. I know I may be met with the answer, 'well, let them reject, why should we care?' Nothing, if we care not for harmony among the fraternity; but when that harmony is of so much importance as to allow any member of the Lodge to object to the visit of a brother with whom he does not desire to associate, and though the Lodge may contain one hundred members who do not object, still this member cannot be accepted, and the visitor cannot be admitted.

"I would ask further, what right has this Lodge to make a brother of one whom they will not admit to fellowship or membership with them? He has received his degrees, and is sent forth a wanderer in the Masonic fraternity. He can not visit the colored Lodges here, for our Grand Lodge does not acknowledge them, and he, therefore, by our constitution, can not visit them. What Lodge will give him membership, should he apply? What is he to do? If he does not connect himself with a Lodge he is debarred from many of the rights and privileges of a Brother. He has not, according to Mackay and others, a right to be a general visitor of Lodges, or to walk in Masonic procession, or to receive Masonic burial. Here, then, is a Brother sent adrift into the fraternity, who, if he can not obtain membership in a Lodge (and what Lodge will admit him, if the one who initiated him will not?) must be a wanderer and an outcast among them; and if he should be admitted as a visitor, he must pay the tax levied by the Grand Lodge on nonaffiliated brethren every time he visits a Lodge. Are polities creeping into our Lodges? They have crept into our pulpits, and may they not next attempt the Lodge room?"

—A steamer which sailed from San Francisco lately, took out to Yokahoma 1332 trees, 165 bushes, 3500 plants, and 1900, grape cuttings, covering every variety of fruitful vegetation which California affords. In return for these, arrangements have been made to send back a full assortment of Japanese native trees and plants.

—George Osborne, says the Kansas Republican, was dangerously shot in a dispute, near Perryville, on the 11th instant.

—The hotel part of the Astor House in New York has been rented for seven years at $55,000 per annum, Mr. Astor retaining the store.

—Capt. Travis, the famous pistol shooter, is giving lessons in pistol practice to the ladies of Youngstown, Ohio.

—The North Georgia Republican, published at Dalton, has retired, disgusted with niggerism. In a long and sensible article, the editor states his reasons in full. We have only room for the conclusion, which is as follows: "As the former reconstruction measures, under which the Conventions of most of the seceded States are now in session, have not been productive of such satisfactory results as we had hoped and expected, and as we believe that many and grave evils will result from the present proposed measures, we out of self-respect, cut loose from our moorings and seek an open sea with the Constitution and flag of the Union at the mast-head of our little craft. Under the sunlight of humanity and reason we cruise, and shall only make harbor at such time and place as will neither expose ourselves to raging Charybdis on the one hand, nor insatiable Scylla on the other."

AGRICULTURAL.

BEDS FOR CATTLE.

Sawdust is easy for cattle to rest upon, absorbs a large portion of the liquids, and serves to keep the cattle clean, and, therefore, in a healthy and thrifty condition; and this is of no small condition. All animals thrive according to the degree of health and comfort which they enjoy, as well as to the amount and quality of food given them. An ox well fed, but exposed to severe cold and storms, would be likely to gain only half as much as he would if properly sheltered. So if he were so situated as to be obliged to stand all the time, he would become so uncomfortable as not to gain more than half as fast as he would if he could lie down, when inclined to do so, upon a bed of dry sawdust or litter.

DIFFERENCE IN SEED POTATOES.

Mr. C. W. Knapp, of Danvers, Ma[ss.] planted last spring one barrel of seed potatoes, two-thirds of which were Early Goodrich and one-third Harbinsons, from which he harvested 112 bushels. On the same field, all of which was prepared and manured alike, he also planted one barrel of the Early Dykeman, the yield from which was only eight bushels. The seed potatoes in both cases were cut, planted alike, and the whole field was cultivated and hoed in the same way. For every three hundred and fifty bushels of potatoes removed from the fields, the soil sustains a loss of nine pounds of potash. Consequently, wood ashes is one of the most valuable of all manures in the culture of the potato.

HORSES.

The following are the statistics of horses in Vermont for the years 18[68]:

Number.....
Average prices.....
Total value.....

The number of horses in Vermont in 1880, was 60,071; now the estimate is only 39,222. The serviceable horses in the State were very popular during the war, and the stock was greatly reduced, but is now slowly increasing, the improvement being estimated at three per cent during 1866.

DRINK FOR MILCH COWS.

Cows that give milk in winter, says the Maine Farmer, will pay very much to their profit by giving them a bucketful of warm water twice a day with a little meal or even the slops of the family in it. Every one who has noticed how an extremely cold day will affect their milk, or what it will become kept in summer. A little meal with meal floating on the surface of such a drink, will soon teach any cow how to drink it.

PISCICULTURE.

Col. E. B. Sawyer of the Newsdealer, who is raising trout by the million in one of the clear streams of Lamoille county, says:

Our experiment in pisciculture is proving a success this year. Thousands of the little speckled fellows have already burst the thin integument which bound them, and are now balancing over their little pod bellies in a most comical manner; and thousands more are going to do likewise. Our parent fish are wintering splendidly. Some days when the ice is clear thousands may be seen through it, and they present a most gorgeous appearance. Only one of our ponds freezes over at all, and in that the ice is so thin that when the snow is off it can be seen through as clearly as glass. It is a great joke to throw a piece of raw liver on to this clear ice. A thousand will start for it at once, and, springing their noses against the ice quite violently, return with a chapped and disappointed air quite human! But we are not quite ready to "blow our horn" yet!

SIMPLE MODE OF COMPUTING INTEREST.

A new mode of computing interest on any number of dollars at six per cent appears very simple. Multiply any given number of dollars by the number of days interest desired, separate the right hand figure, and divide by six; the result is the true interest for such sum for such number of days at six per cent. This rule is so true, according to all business usage, that every banker, broker, merchant or clerk should post it up for reference or use. There being no such thing as a fraction in it there is scarcely any liability to error or mistake. By no other arithmetical process can the information be obtained with so few figures.

SAHARA AGRICULTURE.

Napoleon of France is attempting the reclamation of the great African desert, by boring Artesian wells. So far, about one hundred have been established and the country around blossoms like the rose.

We understand Mr. D. Swigert has sold, out of his "string of racers" at Woodburn, the handsome and highly-bred five-years old stallion, Watson, by Lexington, out of Ann Watson, by imported Glencoe, to Mr. George T. Allman, of Callies county, Penn. Mr. Allman made a fine selection of a stock horse, as Watson is of a fine racing family, and ran a trial in 1:44½, full weights up. It is only a few days since Mr. Swigert sold Newry, a four-year old stallion, by Lexington, out of Prince, to Mr. Temple, of Lima, as a stock horse. He has now ten horses in training, headed by Lancaster, who made the best two-mile race on record. Lancaster is now looking splendidly, and is sound as a new silver dollar. Spinola, the fine chestnut filly, by imported Australian, is looking the greatest mare that she is. In fact, the lot of ten is looking as fine and as well as horses can look. Mr. Wm. Jennings, his English trainer, deserves credit for the good shape he has the entire lot in. Mr. Swigert informs us he has several fine young stallions he would sell; in fact, he will sell any of his lot reasonable. He has seven two-year olds (this spring), that are the handsomest and best set that we have ever seen in one lot, at this season of the year. They look as large as three-year olds generally do; and, if size and condition are anything in his favor, he will be apt to win some of the two year old stakes this fall. The high reputation of the Woodburn stable promises, by its present appearance, to be fully sustained by Mr. Swigert.—Kentucky Gazette.

In Florida and Louisiana this year the orange crop is a heavy one. A Louisiana paper says: "We shall soon see thousands of golden fruit mingled with millions of green leaves, on the grandest and most beautiful of all the fruit bearing trees in the South."

A Wisconsin wine maker was overtaken last fall by cold weather, and some 5000 pounds of his grapes were frozen up in boxes. One made from these grapes in April, was "the hundred year dent better than that made from the same quality of grapes in the fall."

A farmer at Hempstead, L. I., when young, planted a black walnut; it grew well; finally it was chopped down and sawed into lumber, which made two coffins, for himself and wife.

GENERAL NEWS.

—A German named Reisor shot and inflicted a fatal wound on another German, named Henry Ewald, at Louisville on Monday.

—The Washington correspondent of the Louisville Courier says: It is evident that the action of the Chicago Convention is to be forestalled in Grant's favor on the "hurrah" principle, and the Presidential canvass afterward conduce d on the same system of tactics.

The same paper says that in view of the President brevetting Gen. Sherman, all brevets may be abolished, at least such is the report. He thinks the nomination will be sent back. A resolution agreed to in Committee informs the world that the Senate do not approve of brevet appointments to the rank of General or Lieutenant-General, and return the nomination of Lieut. Gen.-W. T. Sherman without prejudice. It was thought the nomination would be withdrawn.

—John Pates, Esq., one of the founders of St. Joseph, Mo., died on the 13th instant, in his 73th year. He was buried on the 15th.

—The total debt of Kansas is $1,002,069 70; assets $326,07012, leaving an unprovided for indebtedness of $615,999,70. That comes of being a State while under age.

He has, by his learning and contributions has done as much to elevate the standard of Masonic literature and extend a knowledge of its symbolism, ethics and history as any other living man. This book, in its particular department, may justly be considered a master-piece, embracing matter not only useful to the Masonic student of every grade, but to men of science in the highest literary field of the present age. Notwithstanding this book has been preceded by several of a similar character, yet to Bro. RALEIGH MINERAL SPRINGS.

THE SCHEME FOR THE DISPOSITION OF the Mineral Springs at Raleigh is before the public. That there may be no misunderstandings as to the properties of these, or any of a series of five principal Springs is given to the public. The Springs respectively named, MAGNOLIA, ORCK and EUREKA, were analyzed by an eminent chemist of St. Louis, Mr. Eno. Sandner. Subsequently, two other Springs which, for curative virtues, are not surpassed by any mineral waters on the Continent.

BAYLESS OR BOX SPRING.

TWENTY-SECOND OF FEBRUARY.

The time has passed, probably never to return, when a grateful people were wont to assemble this day and pay a graceful tribute to the memory of WASHINGTON—the Father of his Country. Eulogies were delivered to gratified ears that never wearied of listening to the virtues and excellence of the man who was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen." The humble mansion of rest beneath the shades of Mount Vernon, by the side of the broad Potomac, was venerated, as Mecca by the Moslem, and the "farewell address" to the people whom he had raised from provincial dependence to be a great nation, was made part of the exercises that graced the day, keeping fresh in memory the immortal precepts therein enshrined.

What a contrast is now presented! Who heeds the teachings of WASHINGTON now? Where is the Constitution which he was instrumental in impressing upon his country? Have not the rabid contemners of his memory, whose malignant breath sought to stain his pure and undimmed escutcheon, obtained possession of the Government, and are they not rending asunder the bands with which long years of patriotic devotion united the people? Have we not realized the baleful effect of secret political leagues, which he implored us to avoid? Had we observed the injunctions his last words entreated us to weigh well and consider, should we be now a divided and distracted people, ruined by our obstinacy and self-will, tearing and tugging at each other's throats for political power, and estranged by sectional prejudices and differences, with only a faint beam of hope in the prospect amid dark, gloomy and ominous surroundings?

Let us hope that the faint beam of the far-off light will grow brighter, and that it is approaching and not destined to disappear—that its rays will soon become effulgent, and shed luster all over the land, and beneath it faces will again become radiant, and hearts happy, and we shall feel indeed that we deserve again to live in the land of WASHINGTON.

DEATH OF PHILIP R. FENDALL.

Washington City has lost another of its ancient and time-honored citizens. On Sunday last, PHILIP R. FENDALL expired at the age of seventy-three years. He follows close upon the retirement of his old friend, PETER FORCE. He was born in Alexandria, and graduated at Princeton in 1815 with distinction, taking the first honor. He was a ripe scholar, an able jurist, of inflexible integrity, and an accomplished gentleman. During the administration of JOHN QUINCY ADAMS he was editor of the National Journal, and was afterward a frequent contributor to the National Intelligencer, which now says of him: "While the Whig party lasted, Mr. FENDALL adhered to its fortunes and gave to it the frequent and constant support of a powerful pen. Many of the ablest and most attractive articles which in former days appeared in the columns of this journal were prepared by him." He married Miss YOUNG, sister-in-law of Hon. A. G. BROWN, of Mississippi, whom he survived several years. The Intelligencer has the following touching memorial of the deceased:

"Those who had the fortune to know Mr. Fendall personally and intimately, will prefer to think of the friend whom death has summoned away; of the singularly pure and almost blameless gentleman, modest and unassuming to a fault, profound in the lore of the closet, yet simple as a child in an integrity which never in his whole life stooped to guile; refined, gentle, and considerate to all sorts and conditions of men; a friend to the poor, to virtue, truth, and religion; an exemplification as husband, father, friend, citizen, of the very highest sense of public duty. To have lost such a man is a public calamity."

—Samuel S. Betts, of Ironton, Ohio, was killed a few days since by the kick of a horse.

OUR CITY AFFAIRS.

The interest that has been manifested in our city affairs by E. MCDAVITT, Esq., acting-Mayor, merits the thanks of all who have the welfare of the city at heart. He has been unremitting in his efforts to bring about a better condition of things and elevate the city's credit. His activity and energy are worthy of all praise. We have been permitted to make an extract from a private letter received by him from F. H. Cossitt, Esq., one of the most intelligent and experienced New York financiers, whose favorable opinion is well worth consideration and preserving. The letter is dated New York, February 17, 1868:

Your esteemed favors were both received and read with interest. Also, your message to the Board of Aldermen, and the resolution offered and adopted by them. If you can raise money enough to carry on the city government for one year, on the economical plan proposed, you will almost pay the due debt. Your plan is a good one and will sooner relieve the city than any I have seen proposed, if you can raise the money, which I sincerely hope you can. You are engaged in a good work—one that benefits every property holder, as well as every man, woman and child in the city. All good citizens wish you "God speed"—go ahead—and may success crown your efforts.

Very truly, your friend,
F. H. COSSITT.

In a conversation with Mr. MCDAVITT, we learned from him that the economy practiced at the present time in every department, if persevered in for twelve months, will wipe out the city indebtedness. This must be most gratifying intelligence to our citizens, many of whom might advance all that the city needs, without in any way embarrassing their daily pursuits. To raise the amount requisite to run the city government, until the revenues for 1867-68 shall be collected, it is thought advisable to hypothecate city property as the basis for suitable and negotiable indorsement. This will be entirely safe too as an investment, and then, we candidly ask the question, can a city's credit be ruined and worse than worthless that has no debt? We know that the idea obtains with some financiers, that credit is valueless unless it is in the market, but we do not consider them the safest counsellors. We take it on us to say, and with the utmost confidence, there is not a city of the size of Memphis, with her actual means in real estate, with her future and her advantages,—in fact, resources—that owes so little, and with anything like a fair chance, can so readily cancel what she does owe. It is said that there are large property owners who owe heavy taxes and have a considerable amount of scrip, but knowing the depressed condition of the city finances, withhold payment even of scrip to the last moment. The ears of such citizens should tingle, for their hearts are cold.

RADICAL OPINIONS OF EACH OTHER.

The Cincinnati Commercial, which, sometime ago, was devoted, soul and body, to the fortunes of Chief Justice CHASE, and regarded the pretensions of GRANT with a retrousse nose, has more recently modified its views considerably, and affects now to think the General "a marvelous proper man," not only to "set squadrons in the field," but to bear the "blushing honors" of the Radical so-called National Convention. It defends GRANT from a brother in the political church, and applies an epithet that might be true if knavery did not greatly predominate over folly. On the 17th, its columns bore the following testimony as to its appreciation of the paper for editing which THEODORE TILTON receives $7000 per annum: a fair salary to be given to a "fool." The Commercial damns the whole batch, but does not separate the parts to designate the offensive ingredients. If the mistake in alluding to "the Copperhead COX for the War Office," instead of the Radical COX, late Governor of Ohio, was an instance of folly, it was at least venial, although the Independent should have known better. Perhaps it would not have made the application if aware that GRANT did not recommend a "Copperhead." The Commercial says:

There have been a good many discussions as to who the biggest fool in the world is. The editor of the Anti-Slavery Standard is, we presume, entitled to any premiums offered for that distinction, without further evidence than appears in the following paragraph from his leading article in last week's paper:

Giving credit for a good motive in this ill-advised step in accepting the War Secretaryship ad interim, the results already tell seriously against his (Gen. Grant's) judgment. His eagerness to rece ommend the Copperhead COX for the War Office shows clearly enough that at a very recent date he was by no means "out of the woods." His charge against Johnson of a purpose of turning him into resistance to the law ought to have made him, if he really believes what he affirmed, the friend and advocate of impeachment. But he is understood to have steadily given his influence against this measure. If the present revival of the impeachment inquiry shall, as before, prove a failure, we shall hold Gen. Grant, more than any other man, responsible for the upward result. He is, of course, not expected to report articles of impeachment, but such is his present relation to the Republican party and to Congress, that if Congress fails to impeach and depose Johnson, as urged anew by Thaddeus Stevens, Governor Boutwell and others, the loyal people will hold Gen. Grant responsible, together with Congress, for the failure. At the bottom of all the correspondence at this time is, as a considerable motive power on both sides, political intrigue. That Gen. Grant and his friends prefer to risk the welfare of the nation with Johnson in the Executive chair, until March, 1869, in taking their party chances against Wade for the Presidency, next year, with impeachment and the ballot in loyal hands, argues strongly against Grant and his Conservative supporters.

On the question of the negro's status, the virtually important one, he Radicals also remember that Grant has yet to speak satisfactorily.

Here, then, the Independent is pronounced "the biggest fool in the world," because it taxes Gen. GRANT with recommending "the Copperhead COX for the War Office," which he himself very inconsiderately and injudiciously accepted ad interim. It is pronounced "the biggest fool in the world," because he was not "the friend and advocate of impeachment," and was expected to be held "responsible, together with Congress, for the failure," by STEVENS, BOUTWELL, and others who were urging that scheme. It is called "the biggest fool in the world," because it discloses the grand secret that the "bottom" of the "correspondence" was "political intrigue," and that GRANT and his friends preferred risking JOHNSON "until March, 1869, to taking their chances against WADE for the Presidency next year, with impeachment and the helm in loyal hands." It is finally crowned as "the biggest fool in the world," because it regards "the negro's status the vitally important one," and remembers "that GRANT has yet to speak satisfactorily" on that point.

The Commercial, which grinds its ax on both sides, when it so elects, but like the instrument used for hewing purposes, a little keener on one than the other, disliked the impeachment idea, because it was not likely to prove successful. It had determined to follow the fortunes of GRANT, as against WADE, who was for himself, and not for either CHASE or GRANT, one of whom the Commercial must have. GRANT was opposed to impeachment, because it might make JOHNSON a most formidable adversary, backed by the sympathies of the people, and at the same time bring up a competitor in his own party to thrust him aside. The Independent is charged with folly, because it discloses too much of the intrigues, and damages GRANT with the Radicals, with whom his identification is manifest, notwithstanding the piteous appeal in his behalf sent out from the Cooper Institute, claiming him to be a "no party candidate."

The Independent, too, clearly intimates that GRANT's veracity is not impregnable; for it says "if he really believes what he affirmed," he should be "the friend and advocate of impeachment." Then the inference must be that, in the opinion of the New York Independent, GRANT is capable of affirming that which he does not believe—a conclusion at which a great many must arrive who read carefully his controversy with the President, wherein his duplicity and willingness to be a convenient instrument to ingenious conspirators are amply illustrated. These Radicals have not the highest opinion of each other, and it is highly probable that the Independent has as favorable an estimate of the Commercial as that Ishmaelitish journal has of the Independent. "Quid vides? Mutato nomine de te fabula narratur"—if not the Commercial, at least its present magnus Apollo, Gen. GRANT whose odor arising from his recent discomfiture, is peculiarly offensive, even to such as STEVENS and his clan.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

NEW TAX ORDINANCE.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Special Dispatch to Memphis Appeal.]

JACKSON, February 21.—The Nineteenth Section of the Bill of Rights, adopted to-day, provides for educational qualifications for holding office.

Mr. Orr informed the Convention he had fully canvassed the tax question with Gen. Gillem. The latter would not enforce payment under the latest ordinance. The collection should be entrusted to the Sheriffs and warrants issued by the State Auditor. Under an ordinance properly framed he would enforce payment. Probably a new ordinance, conforming to Gen. Gillem's ideas, will be adopted.

A motion was made to-day to adjourn until the 19th of March, after adopting the new Tax bill. It was pending at adjournment.

The Democratic Convention adjourned after adopting resolutions in consonance with the principles of the National Democratic party and electing delegates to the National Convention. W. S. Featherston, E. M. Yerger, E. C. Walthall and W. T. Martin are delegates for the State at large.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, February 21.—Sumner presented a petition from the negroes of Kentucky praying that since slavery has been abolished, that a law be passed, or the Constitution amended, so that no State shall abridge the privileges of any citizen of the United States.

Wilson introduced a bill to provide for registration and elections in the territories. Referred to the Committee on Territories.

Patterson, of Tennessee, introduced a bill for changing the time of holding the District and Circuit Courts in Tennessee. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Hamlin introduced a bill to provide for a commissioner to examine claims in the departments. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Sumner presented a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the President to communicate copies of any correspondence on the subject of the abduction of Allen McDonnald, an American citizen, in Canada.

The Senate then took up the Special Order, which was the bill to amend the Reconstruction acts, so that a majority of the votes cast shall decide the elections, and to allow persons registered to vote in any part of a State; but without reaching a vote the Senate went into Executive session.

HOUSE.

To-morrow will be devoted to debates only.

Mr. Baldwin, from the Joint Library Committee, reported an international copyright bill, which was ordered to be printed, and recommitted, with leave. Mr. Pruyn to make a minority report.

Mr. Julian, from the Committee on Patents, reported a bill granting leave for an application for the extension of the patent of Smith & Wesson, which was passed by a vote of 88 to 38.

The Speaker presented the following letter which was read and referred to the Committee on Expenditures in Postoffice Department.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT, Feb. Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Speaker House of Representatives:

Sir: I have just read with astonishment the details of some testimony in the Daily Globe, tending to implicate me in letting contracts for carrying Southern mails. I have never heard these men who testify before. No man ever approached me with any such propositions as are indicated in that testimony. I never heard of such a proposition before. I never do business that way in any of that kind of business, and I ask a thorough investigation, only in the manner indicated in that testimony, but in every other transaction of the Postoffice Department since I have been connected with it. I also respectfully ask that this investigation be open, and published to the world, if this is the proper mode of presenting my wishes to the House of Representatives, and I will be obliged if this letter can be laid before that body.

Very Respectfully,
[Signed] ALEXANDER W. RANDALL,
Postmaster-General.

After some unimportant business, the House went into a Committee of the Whole, on the state of the Union, on the naval appropriation bill, which appropriates $18 696,045.

After some debate, Butler offered an amendment providing that all unexpended balances subject to the order of the Secretary of the Navy, on the first day of January, 1868, shall be converted into the Treasury, and no amount appropriated in this bill shall be expended or drawn while any other expended moneys are subject to the order of the Secretary of the Navy. Agreed to.

The Committee then rose, and the Speaker presented a message from the President in reference to the Executive treaty of 1858, with China, for a settlement of claims, which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Also a message from the War Department, transmitting a communication from the Chief of the Engineer Corps, in reference to the ship canal around the falls of the Ohio. Referred to the Committee on Roads and Canals.

The communication from Stanton, given before, was referred to the Committee on Reconstruction, with instructions to report at any time.

Butler moved that the order of the House, by which the session of to-morrow was assigned to general debate be rescinded, by reason of the communication made to the House by the Secretary of War, stating that there were now two Secretary's of War, one by law and one by usurpation.

Eldridge made a point of order, that the motion was not debatable, and the Speaker also decided so.

The House then proceeded to vote by ayes and nays, on the vote ordering that the session to-morrow shall be for general debate alone, and it was reconsidered by 101 to 49—a strict party vote.

The House then again went into a Committee of the Whole on the naval appropriation bill, and soon after reported the bill to the House, and on the motion of Washburne of Illinois, it was postponed until Monday.

Covode, on a question of privilege, offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, That Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, be impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors," which was received with laughter by the Democratic members.

Hood objected to the introduction of the resolution.

The Speaker stated that it was a question of privilege.

Boutwell moved its reference to the Reconstruction Committee.

Agreed to, and the House adjourned.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, February 21.—The President sent an Executive message to the Senate to-day, stating that on the 12th of August last, under the authority vested in him by the Constitution of the United States, he had suspended Edwin M. Stanton as Secretary of War, and that now by the same authority he had removed Stanton and appointed in his stead, ad interim, Adjutant-Gen. Lorenzo Thomas. The President also inclosed copies of the communications sent to Thomas and Stanton.

The Speaker laid before the House to-day, the following correspondence:

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, February 21, 1868.

Sir: Gen. Thomas has just delivered to me a copy of the inclosed order, which you will please communicate to the House of Representatives.

Your obedient servant,
[Signed] E. M. STANTON, Sec. of War.
To Hon. Schuyler Colfax.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21, 1868.

Sir: By virtue of the power and authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States, you are hereby removed from office as Secretary of War, and your functions as such will terminate upon receipt of this communication. You will transfer to Brevet Maj.-Gen. L. Thomas, Adjutant-General of the army, who has this day been authorized to act as Secretary of War ad interim, all the records, books, papers and other public property now in your custody and charge.

Respectfully yours,
[Signed] ANDREW JOHNSON,
To Hon. E. M. STANTON, President.
Washington, D. C.

The President sent to the Senate to-day the following nominations: George B. McClellan, as Envoy extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to England; James R. Hubbell, of Ohio, Minister Resident to the Republic of Ecuador; Maj. Gen. George H. Thomas is to be Lieutenant General by brevet.

The members of the National Democratic Committee met informally this morning. It seems to be understood that the committee appointed by the Chicago National Convention will hold a private meeting at which many preliminary matters will be considered. Among the most important are whether the regular sessions of the Committee shall be open to the public, and as to the power of the irregularly appointed members from the Southern States. The preliminary meeting will be called by A. Belmont, of New York, and will probably be held to-night. New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and St. Louis, are the competing cities for the Convention. It was finally decided at the informal preliminary meeting this morning, that the National Democratic Committee, appointed at Chicago, should meet to-morrow at their room with closed doors, to arrange the details which are to govern the regular meeting.

The Committee on Elections has agreed that Butler, the member elect from Tennessee, cannot take the oath prescribed by Congress, owing to his having occupied a seat in the Tennessee Legislature and taken an oath to support the Confederate Government, but as he was unquestionably loyal to the United States Government all the time, the Committee would recommend that the House pass a joint resolution similar to that passed by the Senate, in the case of Patterson, of Tennessee, only omitting that part of the Congressional oath required to be taken by the members of both branches. The Committee will make this report on Monday.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, February 21.—Geo. Francis Train delivered a lecture in Dublin last evening to a thin audience. It was an entire failure.

John Curtis and John Keeper, and also David Murphy, a writer, were arrested at Cork yesterday, on a general charge of complicity in Fenian movements. Murphy had but recently arrived from the United States.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

PITTSBURG, February 21.—The river is rising, with four feet six inches in the channel. Weather clear. Thermometer 30°.

LOUISVILLE, February 21.—The river is stationary, with seven feet in the canal. The weather is clear, with the thermometer 32°.

ST. LOUIS, February 21.—The weather is clear and cooler.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, February 21.—The Papal Zouaves, from Montreal, arrived here last evening, and will sail to-morrow.

There is no truth in the rumor that Prince Rurbide has joined them.

TELEGRAPHIC MARKETS.

NEW YORK, February 21.—Cotton, heavy and decidedly less active. Sales, 3600 bales. Uplands, 24c. Rice, firm, Carolina, 10½@11c. Sugar, steady, Cuba, 12@12¼c. Coffee firm. —Major Hargrave, of Rome, Ga., who killed a man named Bowen, a few days since, has been discharged from custody. The evidence was clear that Maj. H. only resorted to defence after having made every possible effort to avoid a collision. The deceased, before death, personally exonerated Maj. H. from all blame.

—John Mulaly, of the Metropolitan Record, was to lecture at Macon on the 16th.

—Sam. Bard expresses the opinion that "Hoffman is the strongest man for the Democratic Presidential nomination." The opinion does not promise much weight—his New Era has Grant's name flying at its mast-head.

—The negroes in Savannah celebrated the birth-day of Abe Lincoln a few days ago. The papers say it was a sorry and small performance. What should it have been unless "a sorry sight?"

—Aaron Alpeoria Bradley, a negro delegate, was expelled from the Convention on the 12th, for the gross insults offered that body. He was Northern importation, and did not bear a good character at home.

—Mr. A. J. Swinney, of Albany, died recently while returning home from Smithville, on the cars. He leaves two daughters.

—The Macon Telegraph says: "By reference to the Georgia Negro Convention dispatch, it will be seen that the white members have succeeded admirably in diddling their black associates on the question of electing blacks to office, the section, as passed, leaving that question to the Legislature. The ultra negro wing of the Convention appear to have lost their sharpness since the expulsion of Bradley. This makes it certain that there will be no negroes in the Legislature, if one should ever meet under the Constitution now forming, and consequently the whites will have exclusive jurisdiction over the question of office-holding." Sharp trick, that!

—The Atlanta Intelligencer of the 16th, says: "Several droves of fine mules have been in town for several days, and we are sorry there is so little demand for them. It indicates a diminution in agricultural operations." And the same paper adds: "It is a singular fact, and one that does not speak well for the farmers of Georgia, that shucks, baled and sent down from Tennessee, find ready sale in this market. We raise cotton, lose money on it, and send abroad for food for our cows."

MARRIED.

RENFROE—MOOPE—On Thursday, the 20th inst., at the First Methodist Church, by Rev. Dr. Mann, Mr. W. C. RENFROE to Miss MARY E. MOORE, both of this city.

The parties were attended by four bridesmaids and as many groomsmen, faultlessly dressed, and looking exceedingly interesting and interested in the ceremony, which was impressively beautiful. Each gentleman looked for all the world as if he was not one of those "Who barren hearts avow, Cold as the rock on Lorneo's hoary brow"—

but was practicing to acquire the art before he says—

"The ring that goes thy wedding finger on,
No hand save mine shall place there."

We wish the very attractive couple who have joined the grand caravan that was in the advance, all the beatitude that falls to human lot, and to each of them we say, in the language of the poet,

"We wish for thee—yet stop to dream
What e'er thy future lot may be,
And trace it as a happy beam
Of dazzling sunlight on the sea;
And pause to hope that coming years
May find thee still as then art now
With not a stain of sorrow's tears
Or cloud of care upon thy brow."

Our friends will remember that the APPEAL BUSINESS OFFICE is now located at No. 13 Jefferson street.

The EDITORIAL ROOMS of the APPEAL have been removed to No. 14 Jefferson street, upstairs, where we will be glad to see our friends at all times.

THANKS.—We are daily under obligations to the Southern Express for favors. Particularly, this morning, we offer our thanks to Mr. Felix Cross, of bond was fixed at $2000.

PICKING POCKETS.—A negro named Warren Brown was brought before Mr. Justice Gibson yesterday, charged with picking a brother's pocket at the Memphis and Ohio Railroad depot yesterday, and sent to the Municipal Court for trial.

A CLOTHES THIEF.—Some clothes line thief or thieves entered the lot of Col. Eugene Mageveney, near St. Peter's Church, yesterday morning, and stole a quantity of clothes from the line in the back yard. The thieves got off with the booty.

PERSONAL.—We learned yesterday that our young friend, John Hudson, formerly of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, had associated himself with that veteran railroad agent, E. D. Cobb, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

THE MARBE CASE.—This case, which has caused no little excitement in the community, is progressing, and will probably be given to the jury to-day. Col. John Bullock and Capt. Van Anderson appear for the defense. They always defend their clients ably.

BRUTAL.—Complaint was made to the police yesterday, that Maggie Healy, a colored girl about thirteen years of age, had been badly beaten with a club by a man named White. The accused will be examined by 'Squire Hall to-day. We have the same supreme contempt for a woman-whipper that we ever had.

NEW BOOKS.—The River and Commercial Editor, as well as the Local, desire to return their thanks to Dave Morriss, First Vice-President of the National Typographical Union, for a couple of Reporters' books, gotten up in excellent style. May Dave long handle the "stick," wave the "rule," and never make a "pie."

DARING THEFT.—One of the most daring thefts we have heard of for some time occurred on Thursday evening while the family of Mr. Joseph Enrich, (who resides on Main street, near the corner of Jackson) were at supper. Some parties entered the premises and got away with a lot of clothing. Former negro servants are suspected of the act.

THE well known house of Messrs. Robeson, Sneed & Co., clothing and furnishing merchants, composed of some of the most popular and successful merchants of our city, have removed to 261 Main street, recently occupied by Bohm, Bro. & Co. In a few days they will be receiving their spring supply of goods. They are now selling at very reduced prices.

ROBBING A CLERK.—Stealing from a deputy clerk of the Criminal Court is about as bad as robbing the river news agency or a checkman on the levee; but such things will be done, however, as was shown yesterday morning, when some parties stole from Isa DeSoto street, all (except one) of Ben Caper's fine shirts, and a lot of underclothes. No arrests have been made as far as heard from.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.—We announce an accession to the cotton and commission house of R. A. Moon, the name of Mr. Clarence T. Geoghegan, who becomes a full member of the firm. Mr. Geoghegan is too well known both as a business man (A 1) and a gentleman above reproach to require notice further than to congratulate him on being associated with a house as flourishing and as capable and efficient as Mr. Moon.

REGISTRATION.—The registration of voters for the ensuing election is still progressing. Two thousand six hundred and forty-eight have got their papers. Three hundred and sixty-four white men were registered yesterday. Col. John S. Kerr is devoting his valuable time to the work, and sees to it that white men get their rights. In justice to the Registrar, we must say that he has extended every courtesy in his power, and we believe he means to do what is right.

ADAMS STREET STATION.—Complaint has often been made to us of the manner in which this place is kept. We have refrained from noticing it heretofore, hoping that some means would be taken to remedy the existing evils. The stench (doubtless proceeding from the water-closets) is very offensive, not only to the officers, but to passers by. The prisoners in the third story yesterday disgusted ladies and gentlemen by their almost nude appearance and bad language. Col. Beaumont or Capt. Simonds should put a stop to this.

A SAFE ROBBED.—A few days since an individual called at the store of Capt. Yeatman, No. 11 Monroe street, and finding no one except Mr. Albert Price, a former partner, in the establishment, called him to the front of the store and began interrogating him as to the price of rope, bagging, etc. After about fifteen minutes conversation, Mr. Price returned to his office in the back of his store, and discovered that his safe, which had been left open while he was in front, had been visited, doubtless by an accomplice of the person with whom he had been conversing, who had entered from a side door, and about $100 in Abrahamic currency abstracted therefrom. Our friend Price, being of a philosophic turn of mind, is taking the thing rather easy and telling it in a way to preclude the feeling of any sympathy in his behalf.

MEETING OF THE CENTRAL DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

Important Address.

A meeting of the Central Democratic Club was held last evening at the Exchange Building, Mr. Barry, President, in the chair.

The meeting having been called to order, the Committee on Constitution and By-Laws reported progress, and asked for further time, which was granted.

The Committee on Address to the People of the State reported, through Judge Scruggs, the following, which was adopted and ordered published in the Democratic papers of the city and State:

The under-signed Committee, appointed at your last meeting to prepare an address to the people of the State and report the same to this meeting, beg leave to report that they have, in the discharge of that duty, prepared the following, and hereby submit the same:

ADDRESS

To the People of the State of Tennessee by the Central Democratic Club of the City of Memphis:

Fellow-Citizens: The Central Democratic Club, of the city of Memphis, respectfully ask leave to call your attention to the condition of our State Government and ask your co-operation in correcting the evils that now afflict the State.

It is historically true that the present State Government of Tennessee was not established by a majority of her people; but, on the contrary, was, at its inception, organized notoriously in antagonism to the wishes and sentiments of a large and overwhelming majority of the citizens; and without the shade of authority on the part of the volunteers who called themselves "A Convention," and who, in open contempt of the authorities of the State, usurped the powers which they and their appointees still hold.

That it did not then, nor does it now, represent, politically or civilly, the great mass of our people. It has, in the administration of the affairs of our State, studiously made itself, in all particulars, obnoxious and vexatiously insulting to the people of the State. That, without cause, it has oppressed the white race and practically injured the negro, whom it has used simply as a means of perpetuating the power of a despicable oligarchy, regardless of his real interest. So offensive has it become to the great body of the citizens, that inspired alone by its fears, for the public good, and by conscious meanness—and without a single act of resistance on the part of an oppressed and injured community, it is the only State Government in the Union that maintains a standing army to uphold its infinite usurpations—a force in fact, which were wanting, that it has no place in the affections of the people, and that it is an oppressor instead of a protector—a plunderer instead of a benefactor. It guarantees the means to the people for the reckless prosecution of new and adventurous enterprises, who are strangers to us in birth and feelings, and who live amongst us not to share with us a common destiny, but are encamped" in our midst for plunder and to prey upon the substance of the land with the spirit of a vagrant Vandal or Hun—only plying their work of robbery with a more unsparing hand. Offices are multiplied and taxes ongrind, and wholly beyond the wants of honest administration of the government, are devised to meet the demands of unworthy placemen; rendering an already impoverished people still poorer; destroying the fruits and disappointing the just hopes of honest toil, and paralyzing all enterprise in the State. These taxes are imposed without representation in the proper sense of the term, and in open contempt of the vital principle of free governments, which has heretofore been the theme of our boasts, and constituted the first political lesson of our American youth. And this, too, with such discriminating malignity that the very persons who bear the greatest share of these burdens are especially deprived of any voice in their assessment; the great mass of property holders and tax-payers being excluded from the ballot box. By unjust laws the people are prevented from selecting for public service the best and ablest citizens; while it is a well known fact that the offices of the country are filled, in its public business conducted by men void alike of integrity and capacity. It is, however, some satisfaction to know that there are honorable exceptions to this rule—that there are some in office who justly enjoy the confidence and respect of their fellow-citizens.

But these instances of merit are not sufficient in number to relieve the people of the evil complained of to an appreciable extent. No community can be prosperous or happy, whatever may be its form of government, where its public business is managed by incompetent or dishonest agents; and when capacity and integrity are driven from its councils. By vindictive legislation and executive usurpation, it has excluded from the ballot-box a large majority of the white race, embracing in its odious schedule of disqualifications a large proportion of the integrity and virtue of the State; while, at the same time, the ballot thus forcibly and fraudulently taken from the intelligent white race, has been placed in the hands of ignorant negroes. For the present the destinies and fortunes of the State are placed under negro domination, or rather that of a few white adventurers who rule the negro vote. The present position of affairs clearly manifested to make some monstrous outrage permanent, thus consigning the superior race to the control of the inferior, and giving to ignorance and vice the dominion over intelligence and virtue. The result is, in one, to establish a perpetual despotism, and make the Helot's holiday an unending season of barbaric license and servile supremacy. Not satisfied with the degradation (politically) of the white race, it seeks as industriously to pull down the poor white laborer to the level of the negro, and to quench in the former all that noble pride of race and blood which makes him worthy to be a freeman—the peer of the loftiest ones of the land—and qualifies him for the duties of a republican citizen. At the same time fostering in the latter insolence without elevation; breeding in his semi-savage mind ill-defined and vain hopes that can never be realized, but which will ultimately produce the discontent that, sooner or later, must culminate as it has every where else under like circumstances, in a conflict of races. This course of legislation has operated most ruinously upon the material interests of the State. It has not only driven from our midst thousands of our best citizens, but it has repelled from us (at a time, too, when most needed), emigrants from other States and countries; thus converting large bodies of the finest lands in the world into uncultivated wastes, and consigning the balance to half culture, for the want of that steady and skillful agricultural labor which emigration would afford. And at last, as though these measures were not sufficient to secure their continuance in power, some of the worst spirits of the party have manifested by them, toward our fellow-citizens of foreign birth, and for no other perceptible reason than a well founded conviction on the part of those in power, that the intelligent foreigners will not sustain their wicked and infamous policy. Nor is this all. Instead of striving to allay and soothe the passions engendered by our late unfortunate war, and healing the wounds made by the sword, there are the most manifest efforts made to keep alive those passions and prejudices. The late Confederate soldiers and their friends are ostracised, denounced and discriminated against, in the most offensive manner; and that, too, in the land of their birth, and amid the scenes of their childhood, while all the burdensome duties of the citizen are rigorously exacted from them. The plea for this atrocious policy is that the late participants in the Confederate struggle, as they believed, for constitutional freedom, were turbulent, violent and dangerous men to the public peace, and that these repressive measures were necessary to preserve public order and personal security. This is an unqualified and wicked falsehood, and was invented for a vile purpose.

The Confederate soldiers have not violated their parole. There is no fact more indisputable than this. To their lasting honor, be it said, that history has never presented an instance of more perfect fidelity to the terms of military surrender than is exemplified in the conduct of the Southern soldiers.

On their return to their desolated homes, so far as the newly organized State Government was concerned, although they found themselves disfranchised, neither they nor their friends organized or proposed any resistance whatever. All felt that it was one of the unfortunate results of war, the offensive features of which would soon yield to the influence of time, and the State find itself once more on the high road to prosperity and harmony. And had wise and prudent counsels prevailed, such, no doubt, would have been the result. The Government would have been legitimated by the returning affections of the people, and the "bar sinister" removed from its escutcheon. Old quarrels would have been buried, and those now at variance united as neighbors and friends. But the return of quiet and harmony did not suit the ambitious views and designs of men whom the agitations of the times had thrown to the surface. They knew full well that a return to a constitutional administration of the Government would too certainly consign them to the obscurity and insignificance to which their unfitness for public employment had heretofore confined them. After prescribing the qualifications of voters, and limiting the right within such bounds as was supposed to insure their continuance in power, some local elections in different parts of the State made it clear that the sense of justice which animated the hearts of all true men in the State would not long brook the outrage done to the State, nor submit to the arrogant assumptions of the unworthy men who had taken control of its affairs.

Since the cry of "wolf" was raised against the returned soldiers, and they were made the "scape goat" to bear the sins of those who accused them. Federal bayonets were called for—the tramp of soldiers and the sound of drum and fife were once more to be heard in the State. A new manipulation of the franchise law became necessary. That was tried; and still the usurpers were not easy. A State Militia must be organized and the Federal Government called upon to arm them. So powerful did the guilty fears of these miscreants operate, that even all this would not do; and as a last resort, the negro is clothed with the elective franchise—the white race ordered from the polls, and Brownlow armed with power to disfranchise whole counties at his pleasure. A system of wild extravagance is inaugurated to raise funds for partizans; and taxes the most onerous and oppressive ever borne by any people, imposed upon an impoverished State. Thus the white race in the State is placed in subjection to the negro—driven from the ballot-box like felons, degraded, insulted, and taxed to utter ruin.

And now, fellow-citizens, when it is remembered that the victims of these outrages are the descendants of those pioneer heroes, who, with "axe and rifle," redeemed to civilization this fair land from the rugged wilderness and still ruder savage, and consecrated it to industry, commerce and refinement—building great cities—covering its sunny landscapes with peaceful homes, and foundling a great commonwealth, there is no point at which honest indignation may pause or apologise for the tyranny and misrule which have rendered this declaration of grievances necessary.

In view of the foregoing equally humiliating and truthful sketch, permit us, fellow-citizens of this noble old commonwealth, in the name of all that freemen hold dear, earnestly to invite you to unite with us in freeing our State from this foul stain upon her honor. To this end we invite you to form clubs in every civil district in every county in the State, open correspondence with each other, and with the central clubs of your respective counties, so as to complete at as early a day as possible, a thorough reorganization of the white race of the State, under the name and banner of the Constitutional Democratic party, with a view to a constitutional government by the white men of the State at as early a day as practicable, and thereby aid the National Democratic party to restore the Union of these States under the Federal Constitution, as our fathers made it, with all its checks and balances unimpaired. This you have the right to do, or our whole theory of a free Constitutional Government is a fallacy, a cheat and a delusion; and there is no soundness in its philosophy, no value in its record, free institutions are a dream, and our boasted liberties a mere waif, subject to be seized and appropriated by the first political freebooter who has the nerve to take them. All of which is respectfully submitted.

F. A. TYLER,
E. T. SCRUGGS,
J. M. HALL,
Committee.

On motion, the Chairman was requested to report the names of three gentlemen to serve as a Committee on Correspondence.

On motion, the meeting adjourned to Thursday night next at 7½ o'clock.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE BLACK CROOK.—We can but congratulate both the amusement seeker and Manager Thompson upon the success of this greatest of modern stage spectacles—the former upon the manner in which the piece has been placed upon the boards of the New Memphis, and the latter upon the appreciation with which his efforts are received. The Crook has in reality almost become a Memphis institution, being already in its second week and promising to hold the boards for weeks yet to come. The house was again filled to repletion last evening, and we venture the assertion that fully one-half of those present were rejecting their attendance, not satisfied with a single view of the spectacle. We would also state to our readers, that on Tuesday afternoon a special train will leave Brownsville at four o'clock, stopping wherever signalled to take on passengers, and will return immediately after the performance is over. The conductor will have tickets on the train for the performance, which will secure reserved seats, and the country people can have a night's pleasure and still reach their homes the same night.

CIRCUS BENEFIT YESTERDAY.—Yesterday afternoon, Mr. John Robinson gave a benefit to the poor of our city, under the auspices of the ladies having in charge the benevolent association known as the Church Home. The tent was well filled, and many of the le bon ton had postponed visiting the circus until yesterday. The audience was composed of one of the largest and most fashionable that has ever filled the arena. The fatherless orphan was not forgotten, for they were there at the special invitation of the proprietor, who through all his career as a showman, never forgets the orphan and the poor. We thank Mr. Robinson and his circus, they leave us with our best wishes; and being out in the business, may his example be followed by his success, through whose generosity the ladies have been able to realize the net sum of five hundred dollars.

THE FARMER CONCERT.—We hope the numerous friends of Mr. Henry Farmer, the accomplished flutist, will turn out on Tuesday night next at the Greenlaw Opera House, and fill it in every part. He deserves at the hands of the public, whom he has served faithfully and well on Memphis charitable occasions, a recognition of his services, and we hope will receive it. He is a good and gallant soldier he deserves the support of his old companions in arms, whom often he has enlivened by his finished performances as a flutist.

THE VARIETIES.—The change of bill last night induced a large attendance at this place of amusement. The performance is not only good, but Manager Broom is au fait in his business. The price of admission is only fifty cents, and visitors cannot fail to enjoy themselves.

ADVERTISING, A SUCCESS IN BUSINESS. The New York Tribune has the following upon the value of advertising, and every practical business man will confirm what it says of the present state of business: "Prudence and economy, of course, are the two great lessons to be learned, but there is one part of these lessons which in dull times is especially apt to be forgotten. Be sure of one thing; whatever you have to sell, there are many ready to buy, even in the most depressed seasons. Find them out; show them your wares; persuade them to buy of you rather than another. When business is dull, that is the very time to advertise. In the first place, that is when you most need to advertise; and in the second, that is when people have most time to reading the newspapers, and when your advertisement consequently is most generally seen. A few dollars thus invested will do more good to revive a sluggish business than anything else in the world."

To My Friends in Shelby County,

A few cards have recently appeared in the newspapers, bearing statements calculated to leave an impression on the public mind, that I had submitted my name to the Democratic Conservative Convention, with a pledge to support the nomination of that body. To remove such false impression, and place myself before the people in a correct light, I deem it necessary only to state two facts:

1st. My advertisement in the public prints for the past two months, is a free and unfettered announcement, as can be seen by the most casual observer.

2d. I have never pledged myself publicly or privately, directly or indirectly, to the delegates of the Democratic Convention, nor to any of my friends.

From the above, it will appear manifest to every one, that I have been acting in good faith with all parties concerned. I will now submit my course to the ratification of my friends at the ballot-box, and, let the issues of the present contest prove favorable or otherwise, I will not cease to labor in the future, as I have in the past, for the interests of the Democratic party, with which alone I have been connected for the past thirty-three years. Very respectfully,

PHILIP GARVIN.

[The above card explains itself. We publish it at the request of the writer.]

A Card.

The lady managers of the Church Home beg to acknowledge the receipt of $500 from Mr. John Robinson, for the benefit of the poor of Memphis.

In returning their thanks to Mr. Robinson, they deem it proper to state that the gross receipts of the circus entertainment yesterday afternoon amounted to $472 50, the balance ($28) being the liberal private contribution of that wholesouled gentleman.

Not only theirs, but the thanks of the entire community, are justly his due for this handsome donation; but his best reward will doubtless be the prayers and blessings of the grateful recipients or his bounty, and the consciousness of having done a charitable action.

We also desire to return our thanks to Col. S. B. Beaumont, Capt. Hazlett and Sergt. Smith, af the Metropolitan Police, for their gentlemanly assistance in the circus pavillion, and to the city press for numerous favors.

MUNICIP

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, February 21, 1868.

There is a better tone perceptible in money matters during the last four days. In commercial circles, says an exchange, business has been pretty steady, and the feeling is decidedly better than in the latter part of 1867. It is evident here as well as elsewhere, that there is no longer room for the wide fluctuations and decline in prices which have ruined many houses in the past two years, and without any prospect of a change in the currency or nearer approach to a gold basis for some years at least, there is greater confidence in entering upon business transactions. Demand and supply will now resume, to a great extent, their legitimate control of the markets, excepting, of course, in the event of Congress passing extraordinary laws regarding finances or tariff.

The cotton market being active, our banks are abundantly supplied with exchange on all Eastern points. New York sight is bought at yesterday's quotations —one bank alone taking fully $100,000 per day. Sight bills on New Orleans are taken at ⅛ to ¼ discount, selling at ¼c premium on that city, and on the East at par.

Gold is steadier. It opened to-day in New York at 140¾c, and was 140¾c at noon. The closing dispatch quoted gold at 141¼c. The rise was caused by a rumor that the President had removed Secretary Stanton. Here the outside demand is better, and dealers find no trouble in disposing of all presented without recourse to shipment. Buying at 138¾ to 139c; selling at 140 to 141c.

City scrip is unchanged. There is no speculative demand. Small pieces are sought after, but large ones are neglected. Buying at 40 to 42c; selling at 43 to 45c.

County warrants are very dull. It is reported that a large amount will be thrown upon the market as soon as countersigned by Mr. League, County Clerk, who is now absent. Dealers are very shy, and not disposed to operate, except they know where it can be invested without any delay. We quote it buying at 50c in a small way; selling at 55c.

Police scrip is in active demand. Buying at 83c; selling at 90c. Transactions between dealers occurred during the day at 85c.

In the United States, during 1866, the American Artisan reports more than ten million tons of iron ores were consumed in the action of fire in six hundred and thirteen blast furnaces, and from them were obtained about four million and a half tons of pig iron.

The coal fields of Alabama are attracting attention. They are three in number; the Coosa River district, covering about two thousand square miles; the Cahawba River district, which is said to embrace no less than fifty thousand square miles. The quality of the coal produced from the first two is very fine; the third is rather inferior and less accessible. Very little has hitherto been done in developing these districts.

The Liverpool cotton market at the opening to-day was firm and active. Uplands, 10¼d; Orleans, 10¾d. At the close, quotations were unchanged, but Uplands to arrive were easier, and quoted at 9¾d. Sales for the day, 20,000 bales; week's sales, 154,000 bales. To speculators, 25,000, and for export, 41,000 bales. Stock on hand, 267,000 bales, of which 143,000 are American. Of the cotton afloat (278,000 bales), 140,000 are American. The New York market was dull at the opening, though holders were generally firm, and waiting for cables from Liverpool. At 11 a.m. the demand was good and prices firm; Middlings, 28¼c; Uplands, 24c; Good Middlings, 25½c; Orleans, 24¾c. At noon the demand was moderate, and prices firm; and at 3 p.m. the market was quiet but weak; Uplands, 24c; Orleans, 24¾c. Sales for the day, 2000 bales. Our market was active early in the day, and Middlings sold at 23½ to 24c, but buyers gradually withdrew, and at the close prices were easier and the market very quiet, with quotations nominally as follows:

Ordinary	20 @20½
Good Ordinary	22 @22½
Low Middling	24 @24½
Strict Low Middling	25 @25½
Middling	27 @27½
Good Middling	28½@29

To CONSUMPTIVES

It is authentically stated that one-fifth of the inhabitants of this country and Europe die of Consumption. No disease has been more thoroughly studied, and its nature less understood; and no disease upon which exists a greater diversity of opinion, and no disease which has more completely baffled all medical skill and research.

Some of the prominent symptoms are Cough, Expectoration, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Lungs and Chest, darting Pains in the Sides and Back, Emaciation, and general prostration and exhaustion of the whole system.

Persons suffering with this dread disease, or any of its concomitants, should lose no time in procuring the services of the proper Remedy in order that they may stay its ravages, and be restored to health. The

Rev. A. E. Wilson's

Prepared Prescription for the Cure of

Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis,

COUGHS, COLDS,

And all Throat and Lung Affections,

By the use of which he was restored to health in a few weeks, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection and that dread disease, Consumption, has now been in use over ten years with the most marked success.

This remedy is prepared from the original Recipe, chemically pure, by the Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, of this city, and consisting in part of Balsam Horehound, Virginia Snake Root, Elecampane, Wild Cherry, Mullein, Hyssop, Slippery Elm Bark, Liquorice, Sanguinaria, Canadensis, Anise, Tolu, and a variety of other articles too lengthy for enumeration. We have also in receipt of regular shipments of Oranges, Lemons and other Green Fruits, and invite the attention of our old customers and the public generally to our stock, feeling confident that our lengthy business experience enables us to give entire satisfaction to all of our friends.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL

FOR 1868.

ALBERT PIKE
EDITOR.

JNO. AINSLIE,
Cashier and Business Manager.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL, NOW IN ITS Twenty-Ninth Year, is offered to the reading public of Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Alabama, it is believed, with superior inducements to any that have ever been presented to its numerous and rapidly increasing patrons. The stagnation in financial movements, the almost total cessation of trade, the paralysis in agricultural operations and the anomalous condition of political affairs, instead of counselling to inaction and discouraging enterprise and energy, should arouse our people to redouble their exertions, to extend their enterprise, and to rely with greater confidence and higher resolve upon their own indomitable and unquenchable courage and purpose. If there ever was a time when the people should be

Fully Aroused and Wide Awake,

it is in such an emergency as the present. The temptation is strong to despair, and to surrender to the influence of fear and an almost overwhelming oppression. If we listen to the voice of the Siren and give up to despair, we are lost—irrecoverably lost. It behooves one and all to be up and doing, "with a heart for every fate, still achieving, still pursuing," until the book of our destiny shall be closed. We should hear of no compromise to make with the opposing genius of decay and destruction, which is seeking to drag us down. We should meet the enemy at every stage and wage an aggressive warfare upon him, until we expel him from the land. Poverty comes upon our beloved land and upon our patriotic people "like an armed man." Like "an armed man" we must assail him—with the same will, determination and courage with which he marches upon our homes and hearthstones. In such an emergency,

THE NEWSPAPER

Is the great and potent weapon with which we must carry on the campaign. We might as well at once surrender to the foe as to abandon this agency, which is, in fact, the artillery arm, both for defense and attack, in such a warfare. This great moral and political agent can only be rendered efficient and successful with the countenance, support and material assistance of the people. Never was there so cheap an aid employed to defend the right and to crush the oppressor. A people who are not willing to sustain an auxiliary which may be so potently used to defend their rights, and which can be employed at so inconsiderable an expense, are in the last stage of decrepitude and decline. And so an individual, who may be

FOUND TO DECRY THE PRESS,

Which in all free governments is known to be the most powerful lever, in the service of good government, must be either too imbecile for a freeman or too corrupt to receive the confidence and respect of his countrymen. It therefore happens that the people who sustain the Press with the greatest liberality and who rely upon its free utterance, with the highest confidence in its power to elicit the truth and defend the right, are always the freest and most independent people.

THE APPEAL FOR 1868

Proposes to meet the great questions which will arise, for the restoration of constitutional rule, with the weapons of

REASON, TRUTH AND HISTORY.

Stern, inflexible principle will be its guide in the future, as it has been heretofore. It is emphatically

FOR A WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT.

For the Constitution as it was, and for the Enforcement of the Laws made in pursuance thereof. Its political tenets will not be subject to change by every breeze of popular revolution. It will adhere to the landmarks of the past, which is the only sure guide for the future. Its

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL

Department will keep pace with the wants of the public and the demands of business.

ITS LOCAL DEPARTMENT

Will chronicle all important events transpiring around us.

ITS NEWS

Will be carefully selected, with a view to post its readers in all the current events of the day.

ITS RIVER DEPARTMENT

Will give with fidelity such items as may be interesting or important to business men, and those who are depending on navigation for their movements or profit.

ITS LITERARY CHARACTER

Will not be neglected in the hands of those who conduct it. And as a

Our Latest Improved
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.
GROVESTEEN & CO.,
499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first artists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been announced THE FINEST PIANO FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has attained this position during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to all of the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them at from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their highest power; while the principle of retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the pliable and proper reply to the touch, but gives them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpractised and to the most skilful touch.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners, and heavy Carved Rosewood legs and Lyre serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years.

KAVANAGH & DECKER'S
BILLIARD TABLES

THE most reliable Cushion used on Billiard Tables is the

Cat-Gut Cushion,

Manufactured by KAVANAUGH & DECKER, and patented December 18, 1866. (See Scientific American, Vol. 15, No. 25.)

It is the only Cushion that possesses all the qualities essential to a Perfect Cushion. It is the most elastic and most durable Cushion ever offered to the billiard-playing public, as is abundantly proven by the great demand for it since its introduction. The peculiarity which distinguishes the Cat-Gut Cushion and renders it superior to all others, is the scientific cord of cat-gut which overlies the face and edge of the rubber and running the full length of the Cushion, which prevents the ball from bedding into the rubber and jumping from the tables. The addition of the cat-gut cord also adds much to the elasticity of the Cushion.

The Cat-Gut Cushion has already been applied to over 1000 tables, which are in constant use. It can be applied to tables of any make, for $75 per set.

Kavanagh & Decker's Factory, at the corner of Centre and Canal streets, N. Y., is the most complete of the kind in the world. The machinery is of the most improved character, the lumber drying room the largest in the United States, the material used the best that can be purchased, and the workmen thoroughly skilled.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

NEW YORK, February 21.—The Western members of the National Democratic Committee have arrived at Washington, and the indications at present are that either Cincinnati or Indianapolis will be selected as the place at which to hold the National Convention, although efforts are being made to induce its being holden at New York or Philadelphia.

All the municipal buildings in this city will be closed to-morrow. Flags will be displayed and salutes fired in honor of Washington's birth-day.

The Tribune's Washington special says that it is reported that the President will assign another commander to the New Atlantic District in a few days. Prominent Democrats are begging the President to appoint Gen. Halleck in the place of Gen. Sherman. The same dispatch says that the Postal Committee has determined to investigate everything relating to the overland mail contracts, and the truth of the allegation that Wells, Fargo & Co., have been carrying their own private mails to the exclusion of the public service, and selling their own stamps to the people of the territories instead of the Government stamps. The Western members are very urgent in the matter, and have resolved the investigation should be smothered or lobbied down.

The Herald's Washington special says as soon as the reconstruction bill is finished in the Senate, Mr. Yates will call up the bill admitting Colorado, and no doubts exist as to its passage.

The same special says the Committee on Banking and Currency met this morning and received several prominent Western bankers, who made statements of their views on finances generally, especially as applying to the condition of the money market in the West, and recommended some amendments to the National Bank laws, and urged an increase of currency.

Commissioner Wilson, of the Land Office, had an interview with a prominent officer of the Canadian Government who holds a life office from the Crown in relation to public lands for sale in Kansas. This gentleman stated that it was his intention to resign his office to lend his assistance to organize a colony of Canadians, with a view of settling in Southern Kansas.

WASHINGTON, February 21.—The nomination of J. Ross Brown, as Minister to China, is strongly indorsed by the press of California. It is expected that since the particulars of Mr. Burlingame's mission has been received, action upon Mr. Brown's nomination will soon be taken up by the Senate. There is apparently no opposition to his confirmation.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has received information from Kansas that the United States Assessor, a rectifier and inspector of spirits, and a distiller, have been detected committing frauds upon the Government, arrested and put under bonds, and the distillery and other property seized and confiscated.
